

What Is AI?

Lesson 1 · Just Ask Boomer

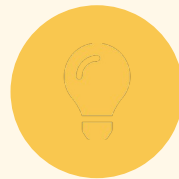

No experience needed. No wrong answers. One dog.

Your Guides Today

Boomer

The teacher. A dog of refined opinions.
Has read zero books. Judges freely.

Uncle (that's me)

The learner. Retired. 35 years fixing machines.
If I can learn this, anyone can.

Have you ever had a question
nobody around you could answer?

Shout them out. There are no wrong ones.

AI is like...

A friendly stranger who read every book in every library in the world —

...but has never met YOU, never seen your town, and doesn't know what you need.

Your whole job: tell it who you are and what you want.

That's the entire skill. Really.

Three things AI is NOT

Not magic

It's a tool. Like a very well-read hammer.

Not always right

It makes mistakes with confidence. We double-check.

Not a person

It doesn't know you, judge you, or remember your secrets. Ask anything.

Let's ask it. Right now.

We'll use one of YOUR questions from a minute ago.

Watch for: one thing it gets right · one thing we should double-check

Your Turn: The Question Storm

- Write 1 to 3 questions you would love to ask.
- From YOUR real life: cooking, health, money, homework, your business idea, your garden...
- Any language. Any topic. Nobody grades this.
- Hand them in — next class, YOU ask them yourself.

Tip: pair up — one asks, one writes. Grandkids type fast; grandparents ask better questions.

AI is for asking,
not for experts.

If you can ask a question, you can use AI. You just proved it.

Lesson 2: Ask Your First Question

Your question slips come back. You sit at the keyboard. You ask. The AI answers YOU.

Bring: nothing. Bring a friend if you like — first class is repeatable.
